

Why should new residents get vaccinated?

Protection

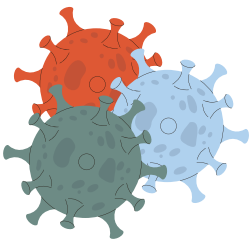

Vaccination protects you, your loved ones, and everyone in the facility from severe illness, hospitalization, and death from COVID-19.

Improved quality of life

Newly admitted residents may not need to quarantine upon admission if they are vaccinated. This means more opportunities for:

- Visitation
- Community dining
- Facility activities
- Mobility around the facility
- Access to therapy gym and equipment
- Reduced COVID-19 testing

Slow the spread of COVID-19 variants

COVID-19 vaccines provide protection against the new variant strains.

Get vaccinated today!

Talk with your medical provider about getting vaccinated before admission to a long-term care facility.

