The COVID-19 Transmission Index is a balanced approach intended to protect communities. The goal of this model is for each county’s citizens to work together at lowering their county’s transmission index level, and for as many counties to be in the low level as possible.

Changes to a county’s transmission index level will occur on a seven-day cycle with announcements made on Thursdays. Counties that meet at least two criteria for high, moderate, or low will be moved to that level. Changes from a lower transmission level to a higher transmission level may occur weekly. Changes from a higher transmission level to a lower transmission level may occur every 14 days at minimum, when thresholds are met.

The transmission levels in this model will be based primarily on the following metrics:
- Positivity rate
- Case count
- ICU utilization
