Utah’s Low Risk Phase
What does it mean and what can you do?

Moving to yellow
Utah’s efforts to slow the spread of COVID-19 have been working. Finding a new normal won’t be instant, like flipping a switch, it’ll be more like gradually moving a dial.

Continue to follow the public health protocols for Low Risk (yellow) to keep the dial moving forward and to prevent it from turning back.

High-risk individuals operate under stricter instructions because they are more likely to suffer severe illness from COVID-19.

General guidelines:

Groups of 50 or fewer
- Social gatherings in groups of 50.
- Symptom check prior to team sport competitions or practices.
- K-12 schools reopening anticipated for 2020/2021 school year.
- Physical distancing at events & entertainment venues.

- Pools open with physical distancing.

- Face coverings worn when physical distancing is difficult to maintain.

- Spacing between household groups, multiple meeting schedules for smaller gatherings and stream services if preferred.
General guidelines for businesses:

All businesses open and take reasonable precautions.

Dine-in service open with appropriate physical distancing and hygiene measures.

Encourage flexible work arrangements, follow hygiene guidelines, and continue physical distancing in the workplace.

High-Risk Individuals:

- Face coverings worn in settings where other physical distancing measures are difficult to maintain
- For any travel, use appropriate precautions; avoid high-risk areas
- Telework if possible, if not, maintain 6-foot distance
- When visiting friends or family, wear face coverings when within a 6-foot distance
- Limit physical interactions with other high-risk individuals, except for members of your household or residence
- Social interactions in groups of 20 or fewer people outside your household or residence
- Limit visits to hospitals, nursing homes, or other residential care facilities

Children:

- Maintain physical distancing in public settings
- All symptomatic children should stay home from childcare, and will be sent home if exhibiting any symptoms
- Limit child interaction with other children in public spaces (e.g. playground equipment)
